PORK PICKIN'S

Appomattox Pork Producers

The Area Swine School was held at Buckingham County Junior High School in January 22nd. While at the school the Piedmont Pork Producers held their regular bi-monthly meeting. The meeting proved to be quite a lively one.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Henry Wood, of Buckingham. The Annual Meeting was planned for March and will be held at Hotel Weyanoke in Farmville.

One of the major topics of discussion was the Association's graded market Hog Tele-Auction At Farmville Livestock Market. It was agreed that the sale should be carried on, although hog numbers have been low on many sales. A group of devoted hog producers proved their determination to make the sale work. These producers pledged to work to get more large and small producers involved for the mutual benefit of all.

It now has become apparent that; many buyers and packers would like see the sale fail because they don't want the producers to be organized when selling hogs.

Most of the producers involved felt that the sale is the only reason for Virginia hogs bringing Peoria prices over the past months. We also feel that large producers not taking part in our sale are getting better prices only because of the sale.

The Appomattox Pork Producers Association strongly request that all pork producers, regardless of size, give the sale a try; and if they do, we feel that they will continue to support it.

As the hog-corn ration continues to decline management will remain your most important tool for success.
